Mark,
I plan to have relatives in town around 8/10 -8/17. I am using the Magee Cabin then and do plan to work some while they are here. However, please mark me off so I don't have some meeting or something else getting scheduled. Thank you.

Subject: next week plans and happenings

I just wanted to let you all know that I'm back from the south. I'm catching up on e-mail and admin stuff, and am going to take care of a couple of calls that came into ISP this morning (Saturday).

As for next week, here's what I know.

Bogar is OFF all week and will return to work on the 14th.

Julie is working but gone to Boise for training from Sunday the 6th until about Thursday the 10th.

I have it written down that Bowen will be working / playing in at Magee from Thursday the 10th until the middle of the next week.

Overman is leaving for training / meetings on Saturday the 12th and will be gone the entire next week.

As far as I know, Josh, Dave and Jerry are around this week, as am I.

I'll see you all (except for Rick and Julie) on Wednesday for all-staff meeting at 0930 or before. You might bring your BA-4s for July if you haven't already. Also, we're planning on doing some CDA area patrolling that afternoon / evening for those who want to participate so bring what you need. I'll find out more by Monday and let you know how it's looking for needing boats, etc. Stay tuned and stay safe! Thank the good Lord for the cooler temps! It's actually starting to feel a bit more like fall.

You can also be thankful you are in R1. Yesterday as I was driving home from Salmon, I met a pickup with a whole elk in the back of it. My first reaction was to turn around and get plates, but then I remembered that they start hunting them 8/1 in the fields (as do several of the regions). I hope he took it straight to the cooler!

FYI,

I will be leaving in a bit for the cabin. I plan to be there until Wednesday around noonish. I'll have family with their 5th wheel trailer there also. I will be working some while there and if you have something come up please try me on the radio. Also, Josh, the One Eye's Landing folks, Bryce and Julie are complaining about a mountain lion hanging in the area. I talked with them a couple weeks ago but apparently, the mtn. lion has been seen again and they claim it to be hurting their business. I will stop by there today and visit with them on my way up the river. Hopefully, this will ease them some. While I'm gone, you may get calls on this. I have not heard of any problems with the lion causing human/ feline conflicts. Thanks and have a great week.

Rick,
The cabin was great but a few things to note. I replaced four mantles which were shot so you might want to pick some more up. The east window on the south wall still falls down once opened and about took my wife's fingers off. Once down, it jams against a large nail. We put a board piece in the window frame so it doesn't jam up against the nail. However, we need to do something else because I think someone may let the window fall and it will shatter. We left some extra paper plates, napkins, etc. We lit the pilot for the oven but there wasn't any gas flowing through the gas plate to get it working. Not sure what the problem was. There seems to be a small leak around the toilet. The rugs were wet when we got there and it appeared to be a small puddle just behind the toilet base. Other than that, it was great! Thanks. Mark

I will go back and check the cabin registry and see who was after you. The cabin was dirty when I came up there. There was some kind of batter on the table and the floor did not look like it had been swept or mopped. I am not saying or have said you left the cabin like that.

~~I am going to send out a regional letter so everyone who does use the cabin knows what is expected of them to clean up and make things better.~~

It is great to use so there are no more break ins'. Any and all work is greatly appreciated.

Thanks for the update.

Rick,

I was talking to Josh about the cabin. He said you put a clean kit together. That's great. Also, he mentioned the cabin being dirty. ~~I wanted to inform you we cleaned it and left it in better condition than it was when we arrived. He said something about egg or pancake batter being on the table.~~ We never had pancakes there and the only time eggs were made it was done in my sister's Fifth Wheel. The two rugs in the bathroom were soaked when we had arrived. Anyway, if you have questions, please call. Thank you.

Mark,

I've seen quite a bit of spearfishing activity and wrote a ticket to a guy with no license who was spearfishing at the big hole between the Silver Bridge and the Little North Fork. There are a lot of people out and Saturday I scratched a bunch of tickets. No emergencies while you were gone! Also, I'm headed to the Midget Crk. cabin on Monday and will be down there for the week with family and doing some patrol. That's all for now.

Gamers,

The Kelly Creek cabin will be open for business sometime in the next couple weeks. As always, enforcement has priority for work purposes...

There will likely be some projects at the cabin this summer to help justify your trip, as if stunning scenery, cutthroat trout, and wildlife is not enough.

The cabin has 4-5 beds and 2 couches, plus a large yard for tents or an RV or two. No power, propane only.

Email me to scope out dates. Call or email me for more details.

Mark,
 Wednesday evening, I checked this out. Yes, a wide cut of grass allowing ATV traffic to the ponds from the private property has been completed. I talked to a couple older gentlemen fishing at the ponds. They informed me that they had seen two teenagers from the private property riding ATV's in the past but didn't have any names. I would suggest we sign the property boundary from the private property to help deter any future use of the cut out area.

In regards to the squatters at Kilarney, I made contact yesterday. I haven't officially kicked them out until Jason Story brings me the verified land boundary information today. Again, that area is not marked at all with any boundary signs and I suggest we have it marked for future campers. The signs should include the three day camping limit rule. Thank you.

I have not heard that anyone has looked at it. I have not. It would be great if you could give it a look.

Along similar lines, Carrie Hugo told me that she's encountered some squatters somewhere around Killarney (I think that's where she said) that she thinks may be on IDFG property, so you might give her a call and see if she needs some enforcement action.
